

Serial entrepreneurs share their formula for increasing the bottom-line.

Whether it's a keynote presentation or an interactive workshop, Thach Nguyen and Kristen Marie Schuerlein share a powerful process called The Gift that creates an electrified environment where everyone is fully engaged.

.....

Are you tired of networking and selling? Are ready for a new paradigm in business development? Are you ready to accelerate your 2010 revenue? Are you ready for a bigger bottom line?

Then you are ready for The Gift.

What is The Gift?

The Gift, is a process based on the Law of Contribution, which states "Your level of happiness and success is directly proportional to the number of people you serve selflessly."

Experience The Gift

1. Connect deeply with others (get interested in people)
2. Find out what they're up to (a goal, a project, a dream)
3. Contribute on the spot (offer ideas, intros, heartfelt support)
4. Watch miracles occur in your life

What's in it for you:

Learn a tried and true process that will...

- get you more clients
- expand your network
- accelerate your personal and professional goals

Be inspired and eager to use The Law of Contribution daily.

Be energized and ready to take on a 90 day challenge that will transform how you produce results in all areas of life.

What we believe...

1. The exchange of ideas is more powerful than the exchange of business cards.
2. Contributing without an agenda is just good business.
3. Pitching your "pitch" gets you more business, faster.
4. Giving The Gift today is planting seeds now for what you want tomorrow.

Thach and Kristen inspire, engage and encourage audiences of all sizes. As the rainmakers for their respective companies, they have used the methodology behind The Gift in their businesses for years. But as audiences quickly see, they both believe that contributing to others is a way of being that makes life easy, effortless and enjoyable. Experience it for yourself.

Thach Nguyen

As a realtor, developer and philanthropist Thach intends to inspire and empower billions of people to reach for their dreams by sharing his life story and showing them that anything is possible. A Vietnamese refugee who once lived in a homeless shelter, Nguyen became a real estate agent with Windermere Real Estate in 1991. Through his legendary determination and persistent door knocking, he became one of Washington state's top real estate producers. Nguyen later joined John L. Scott Real Estate where he sold more than 130 homes a year. He became a millionaire at age 27, three years ahead of his aggressive schedule. Today, he is the Founder and CEO of Thach Real Estate Group where his team continues to help families buy, sell and invest in real estate.

Kristen Marie Schuerlein

As a vision translator, Kristen is an expert at turning ideas into brands and businesses. She is a fourth-generation woman business owner whose great-grandparents owned a meat stand at the local market in the late 1800s. In early 1996 she co-founded Design Duo Inc, a graphic design and marketing strategy company whose clients include real estate developers, tech start ups and entrepreneurs from an array of industries. A walking medical miracle, she triumphed over Graves' Disease in her early 30s and discovered a passion for inspiring people to build businesses that are rewarding financially, emotionally and spiritually. Known for her energy and drive, Kristen is a dynamic speaker, teacher and business coach.
